RUTHERFORD B. HAYES

PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY & MUSEUMS

SPIEGEL GROVE

Arguably one of the most famous people to call Fremont home was Rutherford B. Hayes, the 19th president of the United States. He was a lawyer who practiced primarily in Cincinnati, Ohio. When the Civil War began, Hayes joined the military and rose to the rank of major general. He was eventually elected to Congress and became governor of the State of Ohio in 1867. In 1873, several years before becoming president, he moved his family to a home in Fremont called Spiegel Grove. It was here that Hayes and his wife, Lucy, retired to after serving as president. Both of them passed away at the mansion and are buried on property. Also on the 25-acre estate is the first presidential library in the nation and a newly renovated museum housing many of Hayes' artifacts. The home, museum, library and grounds are open year-round for locals and visitors alike to enjoy.

Yak Attack!

on the Sandusky River

It's 11:15 pm on a warm, summer evening and the long day has given way to the full moon now peaking over the tree line. I paddle my kayak down the Sandusky River. I am with a group of other river kayak enthusiasts who have also chosen to make a full moon paddle with me this evening.

Suddenly I see movement in the darkness ahead of me. My heart races as I hear a growl ahead. At first, I contemplate fighting the current to paddle backwards, but it is no use, as the current is just too strong. It is inevitable ... whatever is lurking in the river ahead of me is my fate! Now just feet away, standing at the edge of the riverbank is a large ape-like creature. I yell out "BIGFOOT" as I rocket past it. The beast has now locked eyes on our group and a guttural growl erupts from it. Welcome to GHOUL RUNNINGS, a Kayak Adventure business that offers guided and self-guided tours down the scenic Sandusky River and beautiful Fremont Reservoir. What I have just described is their Bigfoot-themed Full-Moon paddle that is repeated each lunar cycle with a different villain or creature each time. From Jason to Zombies, mythical creatures are waiting to frighten, yet entertain, the adventurous kayaker each voyage.

Owner Beth Turner and her husband Bob have been running a haunted attraction each fall for the past thirty-two years known as the "Haunted Hydro." The 1910 Hydro Electric Power Plant was fully operational until the mid-1940's. Their love for Halloween and the outdoors has created this "bizarre marriage" of kayaking and ghouls.

Opening in May each year, Ghoul Runnings, LLC offers guided and self-guided tours which include safety and training classes. A variety of two and four-hour trips and specialty adventures include: a history tour, singles kayaking group and other outings such as bird and nature, sunset, moonlight and more. Ghoul Runnings may soon be starting some competitive events which could include fishing derbies, speed and maneuverability, crazy-kraft kayak event and more.

Online event tickets and onsite sales are available through its website www.GhoulRunnings.com and at the business location, "Yak-Shack", which is located at the Fremont Reservoir across the road from the "A-Frame" rental location, 1773 South River Road, Fremont, Ohio 43420. The Adventures run May through September, weather permitting.

Bellevue

Enjoy the Vue!

Besides lying in four different counties, the city of Bellevue is unique in many other ways as well. From history and natural wonders to the arts and religious areas, Bellevue has a lot to offer. The city is home to Ohio's largest railroad museum – Mad River and NKP Railroad Museum. This hands-on museum, which is on the property where Florida East Coast Railroad developer Henry Flagler once lived, features numerous engines, freight and passenger cars, cabooses and artifacts.

History buffs won't want to miss Historic Lyme Village which depicts life of the first area settlers in the early 1800s -1900s. Points of interest on the property include the John Wright Mansion, the John Seymour House which was a stop on the Underground Railroad and various other buildings including log homes, barns, a one-room school house, general store, town hall, log church and the National Postmark Collectors Museum and Research Center. Enjoy the peace, tranquility and history surrounding Sorrowful Mother Shrine. The grounds contain both an indoor and outdoor chapel, a pilgrimage center and gift shop and a wooded grounds containing wildflowers, flower beds and beautiful grottos.

MAD RIVER & NKP RAILROAD MUSEUM

Today, Bellevue is home to the largest railroad museum in Ohio. The Mad River & NKP Railroad Museum opened in 1976 as a lasting bicentennial project and serves as a tribute to the importance of railroads in our country's transportation industry. The museum, located near downtown Bellevue, rests on both sides of Southwest Street. It showcases multiple engines, cabooses, passenger and freight cars and buildings full of displays on the history of railroad transportation.

For those looking to head “down under”, Seneca Caverns is the recommended choice. With cave temperatures being a constant 54 degrees, Seneca Caverns is Ohio’s greatest natural underground adventure. Founded in 1872 by two young boys who were rabbit hunting with their dog, this geological wonder contains seven levels to explore as well as an underground river.

Performing arts enthusiasts will be interested in the Bellevue Society for the Arts. The theater seats approximately 335 people with state-of-the-art lighting and sound. BSA brings several world-class productions to the area each year.

"Bee"ing a Beekeeper

Article by Gary Wylie,
Cherry City Honey Farms

The practice of maintaining honey bee colonies is termed beekeeping or apiculture (from the Latin word for bee, apis). Beekeeping has been used since ancient times and depictions have been seen on the walls of ancient temples from before 2422 BC.

It is estimated that in North America around 30% of the food humans consume is produced from bee pollinated plant life. Bees provide crucial pollination services that support our food security, enrich our diet's nutritional value and are highly valued economically.

Tami and Gary Wylie, owners of Cherry City Honey Farms and Apiary, know the importance of the honey bee. They have turned their love of beekeeping into a business. Gary is an advocate for learning and loves to teach others about bees. He blogs, vlogs, and assists with sponsoring and teaching classes at the farm for the Sandusky River Valley Beekeepers Association for both new and seasoned beekeepers. Because of this, they have added a high-quality beekeeping supply line of products.

They have been supplying honey to Northwest Ohio for seven years at multiple local farmers markets and throughout the United States via their online store. In May of 2021, Cherry City Honey opened their newly constructed shop and gift store on their farm, located in Bellevue.

Having a physical "brick and mortar" location has allowed Cherry City Honey to partner with other local businesses that have natural products like Appalachia Sunshine Handcrafted Soaps and Storehouse Teas. Their company name originates from the numerous cherry trees and a large commercial cherry farm that were historically located along their road. "Bee" sure to visit the store at 1000 CR 312, Bellevue, Ohio.

Sandusky County Historic Jail & Dungeon

Whispers of a Dark Past

For most residents of Fremont, Ohio the Sandusky County Courthouse is nothing more than another ordinary county building. However, there is dark history that refuses to be silenced. In the early 1840s, local officials often struggled to keep inmates contained in their above-ground jails mostly due to primitive constructions that included dirt floors and wooden barriers. Because prisoners often escaped, the county officials build an underground dungeon with solid limestone walls, ceilings and floors that was deemed unescapable. Due to repeated escape attempts from the above-ground jail, a cold-blooded murderer by the name of George Thompson became the dungeon's first resident before the construction of the courthouse above was complete. While being housed in the dungeon, George awaited his execution on the gallows for murdering a young woman.

Prisoners saw little daylight in the subterranean space, with the only illumination coming from kerosene lamps or candles. Despite the terrible conditions, the dungeon was used for more than a decade before it was finally shuttered. "It's like stepping through a time portal. When you open that door and go into the dungeon area, it literally feels like you stepped back into the 1840s," says David Thornbury, marketing specialist at the Sandusky County Convention & Visitors Bureau, which oversees tours of the jail and dungeon. There are many stories of murder and mayhem that landed individuals on death row here. It's easy to see why the dungeon was only used for a short period of time; people just didn't do well being kept in those conditions. Also, that type of imprisonment was not in line with the young Christian country that America was trying to become.

In the 1890's, an above ground jail was built that was used just shy of one hundred years. Today, it still stands and is available for tours.

For those who are believers in the supernatural, the halls of these two buildings are brimming with paranormal energy. Often times, visitors feel tugs on clothing or hair, hear strange, disembodied voices or footsteps along these dark corridors.

After hearing of paranormal accounts from courthouse staff, the Ohio Researchers of Banded Spirits, otherwise known as O.R.B.S., did a paranormal investigation of the dungeon and historic jail. Afterward, the county talked to them about offering paranormal tours.

Clyde

Rich in History!

Ask anyone from Clyde, Ohio, what the city is most known for and the answer will probably be one of two things. Residents may say it is most known for Winesburg, Ohio and Sherwood Anderson who wrote a series of short stories based loosely on the author's experience of growing up in Clyde. The second answer may be that Clyde (known in 1828 as Hamer's Corners) was the birthplace of General James Birdseye McPherson who was the highest senior ranking officer killed in the Civil War. Both answers are correct, but the city of Clyde has so much more to offer besides these pieces of history.

Located in the eastern part of Sandusky County, Clyde is an idyllic small town. From sipping gourmet lattes in the vault of an old bank converted to a coffee shop to sipping local wines in the outdoor pavilion area of the county's newest winery, Clyde is the place to be. From the community swimming pool with its slippery water slides to enjoying ice cream or a home-cooked meal in a Victorian home that is now a restaurant to unique boutiques that offer a wide variety of goods, Clyde is bustling with things to do.

The Clyde Heritage Museum is full of artifacts including military memorabilia, a 1920 Clydesdale fire truck, and a section on Sherwood Anderson. The nearby McPherson House offers an intriguing glimpse into the home life of General McPherson with a tour of his boyhood home.

Of course, the kickoff to the holiday season wouldn't be complete without the Winesburg Christmas celebration which takes place throughout the city. To keep that holiday spirit alive, shoppers can pick out their perfect tree at the Hidden Pines Christmas Tree Farm just a short drive from town and shop in its gift shop to warm up. It's all here all year in Clyde, Ohio!

Gibsonburg

#TheGibsonburgWay

Small towns in the Midwest may be a dime-a-dozen but Gibsonburg, which is in the northwest section of the county, is anything but ordinary! Gibsonburg was founded in 1871 due to its large supply of oil and limestone, but today, it is known for its beautiful parks, smalltown charm, and sapphire blue quarries. The area is a popular destination for scuba diving, fishing and kayaking. Each year, adventure seekers travel to White Star Park for the area's best inland quarry diving. This quarry has become very popular for scuba enthusiasts. During the summer diving season, the scuba concession area, operated by Divers Incorporated, is able to provide air and Nitrox fills, drinks and snacks, equipment rentals and MORE! For additional information, visit: whitestarquarry.com

White Star Park also boasts a pristine quarry swimming area, boat launch, camping, picnic areas, log cabins and hiking trails. Silver Rock Quarry is also popular for kayakers and fishermen.

A Taste of Gibsonburg...

A visit to Gibsonburg would not be complete without a stop at Ideal Bakery where homemade baked goods are made fresh daily and the cinnamon rolls, apple turnovers and donuts are legendary! Gibsonburg has many local favorite spots to grab a bite to eat, including, Oogies Pizza, Pisanello's, Kate & Al's, Madison Street Tavern, Subway, Hungry Bear Dinner and more!

Williams Park is the location for many of the Village's annual festivals, including the Gibsonburg Homecoming Festival and the Gibsonburg Arts and Wine Festival. The Park is also home to the 9/11 - Public Safety Service Memorial. This Memorial, constructed of sacred steel that was recovered from the rubble of the 9/11 terrorist attack on the World Trade Centers, is dedicated to the victims who died in that fateful tragedy, as well as to honor our Nation's First Responders. The Memorial is one of many other sculptures that are on display and part of the "Sculpture in the Village" walking tour that features dozens of unique and beautiful sculptures that are arranged along a paved walking path around the park.

Woodville

Home of Astronaut Tom Henricks

On a warm summer evening, the sky begins to glow brilliant shades of pink, blazing orange and deep purple over the Portage River. A pair of kayakers leisurely paddle downstream while children's laughter floats on the breeze from the nearby community pool. Walkers stroll through Trail Marker Park with their dogs running ahead as far as their leashes will allow. Several blocks away, a t-ball team celebrates a narrow victory with ice cream for all!

This is life in Woodville where everyone is a friend, neighbors gladly help each other and the air seems just a bit fresher. Farmer's Markets are a common gathering place for locals and visitors alike. Fruits and vegetables, fresh baked goods, spices, flowers, crafts and other goodies are available on a regular basis at the markets during the summer and fall months.

H.W. Busdiecker Park honors one of the villages former mayors and NASA astronaut/Woodville native Col. Tom Henricks, as well as the first 14 NASA astronauts who perished in the line of duty.

Veterans Park serves as a reminder of the many freedoms our country experiences and of those who made the ultimate sacrifice to defend our nation.

Another treasure in town is the Woodville Historical Society Museum with its collection of local historical items that help celebrate the long legacy of Woodville and the surrounding county. For those who like hometown comfort food, Granny's Kitchen is the place to stop. The food is similar to the meals that Mom used to cook and the selection of homemade pies leaves diners wanting to order more than one piece for dessert!

Green Springs - On a beautiful autumn day, the trees along State Route 19 are ablaze with deep reds, shimmering golden yellows and pumpkin oranges. The town of Green Springs, located in the southern section of Sandusky County, is enveloped in a peaceful quietness, interrupted only by the sound of crisp leaves blowing. Green Springs "claim to fame" is that it has the largest natural sulfur springs in the world, a beautiful pond-like setting located on the west side of town. The mineral spring flows from an underground river, down Green Creek, into the Sandusky Bay and Lake Erie.

One of the highlights of the village is the Stemtown Historical Society Museum which is in the home of Allen Watrous who was the only Revolutionary War Veteran from Green Springs. Other attractions include R-Bar-D Stables LLC Tack & Village Store for general store items and horse supplies, Jimmie's BBQ, a village store and the Green Springs Village Park which includes play equipment, picnic area, tennis and basketball courts.

Helena - Even though the village of Helena, located on State Route 6, is small, it has some wonderful attributes. People come from all around the state to visit Chateau Tebeau Winery, located just off the highway on State Route 635. Nestled in a country setting, this beautiful winery features award-winning wines produced from grapes grown on the property. During the warm months, guests enjoy sitting by the koi pond or strolling through the vineyard. The winter months offer a cozy place to relax by the massive stone fireplace in the tasting room.

Another popular destination is The Summer Kitchen on State Route 6. Upon stepping inside, visitors feel enchanted with the delightful mixture of home décor, floral arrangements, teas, baking mixes and much more!

Lindsey - One of the most popular destinations in Lindsey is Wilson Nature Center at Creek Bend Farm. Originally an 1850's farm owned by Philip and Margaret Overmyer, it remained in their family until it was acquired in 2002 by the Sandusky County Park District with the help of the Clean Ohio Conservation Fund Grant and a donation by the Roush family. At that time, the farm belonged to Frances and Robert Roush and is now listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The Nature Center opened in 2004 following a generous donation by Sharon and Joe Wilson, as well as a capital campaign. Inside the Center, visitors enjoy a Window on Wildlife room, animal displays, a nature library and educational classrooms. Two miles of Muddy Creek runs through the property, as well as three miles of hiking trails. The property also contains a floodplain where bird enthusiasts can observe migrating warblers, water birds and bald eagles.

Running through the village is the North Coast Inland Trail which offers 21.6 miles of completed, paved trails throughout the county. Also at this location is a children's park with various playground options.

Camping

Camping has long been a favorite hobby of many families. It permits the average person to escape their "normal life," find a spacious, often wooded area, set up a tent or camper and "survive" in the wilderness for a few days. It allows for an absence from the hectic lifestyle so many of us lead, to a more relaxed, laid-back experience where we reconnect with the land.

Sandusky County offers a number of diverse options for camping in our area. Whether guests are looking for a campsite on the serene Sandusky River or a wooded site surrounded by firs, oaks and hemlocks, we've got it! Enjoy some of the county's best hiking trails along with lake or quarry swimming, family activities and much more. Many campgrounds in the area offer both full hookup and primitive sites. Some even offer cabins, cottage rentals and boat launches. Sandusky County campgrounds offer a back-to-nature option to our many hotels as a place to set up base camp and explore the region.

Fishing

The Spring Run

The Sandusky River in Fremont, Ohio, as well as several of the area's reservoirs and other bodies of water, offer numerous outstanding fishing opportunities. While the spring run is the most popular fishing opportunity, good fishing abounds all year throughout the county. With many parks and public access areas, Sandusky County is truly an angler's paradise!

For generations, sport fishermen from across the United States have flocked to the Sandusky River each spring to take part in the walleye and white bass spring run fishing phenomenon. The spring run is known for producing some of the largest walleye taken from Lake Erie each year. The most consistent success on spring walleye usually occurs in the deep pools that line the Sandusky River between the State Street and Miles Newton Bridges in Fremont. Another popular spot is River Cliff Park on Tiffin Street in Fremont. Favorite gear for landing these thrashing lunkers among the rocks is a medium-weight spinning rod and ten-pound test line. From March 1 through May 1, lures are restricted to those with single hooks so lead head jigs in a variety of weights and bright colors are the universal favorite. The actual start date depends on the water temperature so dates may vary.

Bird and Eagle Watching

The bird migration superhighway

Sandusky County is located along the bird migration superhighway. This gives Sandusky County the opportunity to see many species of exotic and colorful birds as they make their way across the country to their breeding grounds in Canada. They spend their summers up north and then fly as far away as South America in the winter.

The Sandusky County Park District system is one of the leading locations for birders of every level, whether beginners or experts. Great birding spots include the Blue Heron Reserve, which is part of the Lake Erie Birding Trail, White Star Park, Wolf Creek, Creek Bend Farm, River Cliff Park, Pickerel Creek Wildlife Area and all along the shores of the scenic Sandusky River.

Each spring, neighboring Ottawa County and the Black Swamp Bird Observatory host “The Biggest Week in American Birding” with a 10-day festival held in “The Warbler Capital of the World”. The festival celebrates the peak of the spring migration with birding events and hotspots at the world-famous Magee Marsh and the Lake Erie Marsh Region of northwest Ohio. This year’s “Biggest Week” takes place May 6-15, 2022.

Both Sandusky County and Ottawa County recorded the largest number of bald eagle nests across Ohio with 140 nests between the counties according to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources 2020 nest census. Boat rides and strolls along the Sandusky River regularly reveal copious eagle sightings. In the 1970’s, eagles were nearly extinct with only four breeding pairs left across the entire state. Today, Ohio has over 700 confirmed bald eagle nests, with all but three counties in the state containing documented nests.

A very active place to see the American Bald Eagle in Sandusky County is along the Sandusky River. A cruise on the river during peak summer months can reveal up to 60 sightings of this once endangered and majestic bird!

An excellent Bald Eagle watching location is River Cliff Park, located on the Sandusky River at 1329 Tiffin Street in Fremont.

Birding by Month

January

Midwinter brings small visitors from the north. They find shelter in meadows, woodlands and marshes. You can find a variety of waterfowl wherever there is an opening in the river, bay or lake ice.

February

The moderate temperatures in the last half of the month bring the first robins, killdeer, woodcocks and blackbirds.

March

After the frozen marshes begin to thaw, the flights of migrating waterfowl begin. Early flights of pintails, mallards, tundra, swans, black ducks and many others follow the freeze line.

April

Spring migration increases in intensity, bringing over 300 species of birds to the area. A large number of raptors, the first waves of shorebirds and a wide variety of songbirds appear.

May

Warbler-mania strikes! Many species of these colorful songbirds come to the area to rest and refuel before continuing their journey.

June

Nesting season begins. Each bird finds its favorite habitat (field, thicket, tree-top, marsh). Birding is at its best as the last of the shorebirds are heading north.

July

Singing begins to wane; nesters are busy nesting. The first southbound sandpipers and plovers appear.

August

The height of migration from south-bound shorebirds takes place on mudflats or marshes of any kind.

September

The warblers return in large numbers in the fall. However, they're quieter and duller in color.

October

Indians called this the "Month of sparrows" in weed patches everywhere. A few you might see are the white-throated sparrow, swamp sparrow and the fox sparrow.

November

Migrant songbirds have mostly cleared out. Huge flocks of Bonaparte's gulls and red-breasted mergansers invade. Marshes can be thick with waterfowl.

December

Winter sets in and shorter days sometimes bring boreal songbirds.
